Unfinished Business

- A. APRN Bill – The APRN bill has passed and has been signed by the governor. Some of it will become effective July 1, 2011. APRN Statutes become effective January 1, 2012. Important point of the bill are as follows:
  - a. Changing ARNP to APRN
  - b. Certification changes to licensure
  - c. Certification of qualification will become License
  - d. Categories will be called Roles
  - e. The statute will require a Master’s of Science in Nursing.
  - f. The existing advanced practice nurses are grandfathered in, so they are not required to take any steps to stay licensed as a result of the change.
  - g. Applications already submitted for certification are considered applications for licensure.
  - h. CNE will be required for advanced practice nurses in their role.

- B. APRN Task Force – No update at this time. The task force continues to meet.
